

Hello, I'm Finja!

I was born with a laminopathy (aka LGMD1b/EDMD2).

I inherited this genetic defect from my dad.

I was diagnosed when I was two years old, but before that I already had elevated CK levels.

This year I got my first wheelchair. But that doesn't stop me from being happy...

I'm pretty sure that one day there will be a cure and then i want to become a flight attendant.
